

Double Meaning

by Charlotte Lobb

After losing both her husband and son in a tragic car accident, Hannah is admitted to a psychiatric unit where she forms an unexpected connection with an elderly Maori lady with a deeply locked past.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Charlotte Lobb is a New Zealand born Kiwi, and a proud mother of two. She is a speech-language therapist at a special needs school. This is her debut novel.

PUBLICATION

Not yet published

EXTENT 77,000 words approximately

RIGHTS INQUIRIES

Linda Cassells, Calico Publishing Ltd

Acting as author's agent

Email:

linda@calicopublishing.co.nz

