

Little Gems

Marvels and Musings on Motherhood from Around the World

By Jane Langley, Bridget Fogarty and Becky Ollivier

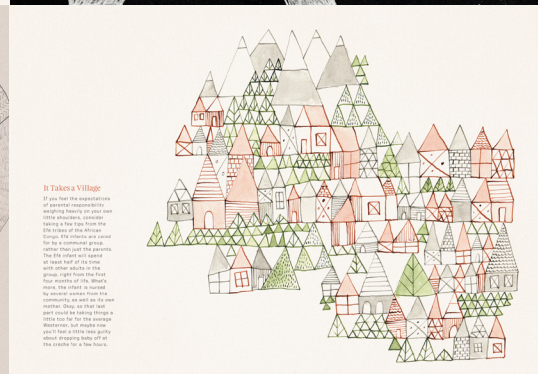

170mm x 240mm
96pp with full colour illustrations
6,702 words

Casebound, section sewn in 16pp, selfends.
Fully cased with Wibalin over board, square back, Head and tail band.

130gsm Yu Long Pure 1.3 Creamy Woodfree.

- A fascinating collection of anecdotes, folklore and new-baby rituals from more than 50 different cultures around the world.
- Winner of the Penguin Random House NZ Award for Best Illustrated Book and the Mary Egan Publishing Award for Best Typography at the PANZ Book Design Awards 2016.
- First edition print run pre-sold via a successful KickStarter campaign.
- Stocked in Whitcoulls, New Zealand's largest book retailer, as well as a wide range of book and gift retailers in New Zealand and Australia.
- Described on Babyology.com.au as "a literary version of a coffee group".
- Perfectly pitched at the booming baby shower gift market.

"An old Russian proverb claims that labour will go more smoothly if both parents-to-be confess the names of all their previous lovers. So all that screaming and yelling you hear in the delivery suite? It might not be pain related."

Artist's prints also available at littlegemsbook.bigcartel.com | Find us on Facebook and Instagram as "Little Gems Book".